

General Terms and Conditions (of sale) of Your Expat Agency

Article 1: scope

1. These General Terms and Conditions (of sale) apply to all the agreements, legal relationships and other obligations entered into between Your Expat Agency . registered trade name of JR Support & Consultancy, and the client.

Article 2: definitions

1. In these General Terms and Conditions (of sale), the following terms have the following meanings:

- a) Your Expat Agency: the legal entity that provides immigration and relocation services to the Client and their employees. Called Your Expat Agency hereafter.
- b) The Client: the natural and/or legal entity who provides the agreement for services to Your Expat Agency.

Article 3: general

1. In the event of any amendments to these terms and conditions by Your Expat Agency, the amended terms and conditions will apply to all new assignments from the date of publication on the website Your Expat Agency.
2. The Client may only rely on the Client's own General Terms and Conditions or on any other trading terms whatsoever, or any stipulations to the contrary, if these have been accepted, explicitly and in writing, by Your Expat Agency prior to the assignment.
3. These General Terms and Conditions will also, without any further declaration, apply to all subsequent obligation(s) and/or agreement(s) between Your Expat Agency and the Client, unless they have been excluded, explicitly and in writing.

Article 4: agreement and offers

1. All offers by or on behalf of Your Expat Agency will be made in writing. The legal relationship between Your Expat Agency and the Client will not exist until the quotation or offer has been accepted by the Client, explicitly and in writing, or when the Client has received confirmation of the assignment, in writing, from Your Expat Agency.
2. Unless explicitly agreed otherwise, the offers made by Your Expat Agency will be valid for fourteen (14) days.
3. All offers are based on the information received by Your Expat Agency from the Client at such time as the offers are made. In the event of any changes in the circumstances on which Your Expat Agency has based the aforesaid offers, Your Expat Agency will be authorized to take these changes into account in the performance of the obligation(s) and/or agreement(s) and/or to adjust the prices, provided this is confirmed to the Client in writing.

Article 5: website and promotional material

1. All written information, diagrams, images, etc. provided by Your Expat Agency on the website of Your Expat Agency and/or in leaflets or in any other promotional material will have no binding effect on Your Expat Agency and are only meant to provide a general representation of the services offered by Your Expat Agency.
2. All the information on the website of Your Expat Agency and/or all the promotional material provided by Your Expat Agency is without obligation and furthermore subject to change. Your Expat Agency does not in any way whatsoever guarantee that the information concerned is complete or up-to-date. The Client cannot derive any rights whatsoever from any such information.

General Terms and Conditions (of sale) of Your Expat Agency

Article 6: time limits

1. Any and all time limits given by Your Expat Agency or time limits agreed with the Client regarding any delivery and/or provision of service are approximate only and will therefore never be considered to be final deadlines. In the unlikely event that any completion time is exceeded by Your Expat Agency – for whatever reason – the Client must (after consulting Your Expat Agency) specify a new reasonable time limit for – further – completion of the assignment.
2. In the event that any completion time is exceeded – for whatever reason – Your Expat Agency will never be obliged to pay any compensation whatsoever in this respect.
3. Your Expat Agency and the Client may agree, for each individual assignment, that the assignment in question can also be carried out in parts.
4. In the event that Your Expat Agency and the Client agree that the work will be carried out on a phased basis, Your Expat Agency may inform the Client, in writing, that the commencement of the services in question will be deferred to a next phase, until the Client has informed Your Expat Agency, in writing, that the Client has approved the results of the preceding phase.
5. In the event that the Client, for whatever reason, fails imputably (for example because the Client does not wish to acknowledge or take delivery of or pay (promptly or otherwise) for all or part of a performance of Your Expat Agency after completion), Your Expat Agency will reserve the right to suspend the performance of the work - at whatever stage the work to be performed is at -, to terminate the obligation(s) and/or agreement(s) between the parties and/or to demand compensation or performance of the obligation(s) and/or agreement(s).
6. Irrespective of the payment terms agreed on between Your Expat Agency and the Client, Your Expat Agency will remain entitled to require that the Client provide sufficient security or advance payment before performing any – further – services for the Client.
7. In the event that the assignment is carried out in parts, a completed performance may be invoiced separately by Your Expat Agency.

Article 7: performance of the obligation(s) and/or agreement(s)

1. Your Expat Agency will endeavour to perform the services with due care and, where appropriate, in accordance with the agreements and procedures agreed on in writing with the Client.
2. Your Expat Agency will at all times have the right to contract out the performance of all or part of the obligation(s) and/or agreement(s) between itself and the Client to third parties in The Netherlands or abroad, or to have them performed by such third parties, if this will, in the opinion of Your Expat Agency, facilitate a good and efficient performance of the Client's assignment. These third parties may rely on these General Terms and Conditions directly in respect of the Client. The scope of Section 404 of Book 7 of the Dutch Civil Code is explicitly excluded in this respect.
3. In so far as Your Expat Agency also effects an obligation or obligations and/or an agreement or agreements between the Client and a third party, Your Expat Agency can never be bound by the arrangements, obligation(s) and/or agreement(s) between the Client and these third parties.
4. For the performance of the obligation(s) and/or agreement(s) with Your Expat Agency, the Client will provide all the particulars and information which Your Expat Agency believes that it requires. In addition, the Client will be obliged to provide Your Expat Agency with all other facts and circumstances that may be relevant to the correct performance of the obligation(s) and/or agreement(s) with Your Expat Agency.
5. The Client will bear the risk with regard to the accuracy or any inadequacy or misunderstandings concerning the information provided by the Client.

General Terms and Conditions (of sale) of Your Expat Agency

Article 8: Performance of the obligation(s) and/or agreement(s) with regard to the finding of a house or otherwise

1. Supplementary to Article 7, Your Expat Agency will never act as a property agent or be regarded as a property agent in the performance of the obligation(s) and/or agreement(s) with the Client.
2. Your Expat Agency will contract out the relevant work for the renting or letting of a house or otherwise to the (international) property agent to be designated by Your Expat Agency, unless it is agreed in writing between Your Expat Agency and the Client that Your Expat Agency will perform the work ensuing from the obligation(s) and/or agreement(s) with the Client concerning the renting or letting of a house or otherwise, in which respect the work to be performed by Your Expat Agency concerning the renting or letting of a house or otherwise will solely be able to constitute an obligation to use best endeavours and can never be deemed to be an obligation of result of the work to be performed by Your Expat Agency.

Article 9: work schedule or time schedule

1. The services will be performed by Your Expat Agency in accordance with any work schedule or time schedule drawn up beforehand. Should it become apparent during the performance of the services that it is desirable or necessary to depart from or change the work schedule or time schedule drawn up beforehand, Your Expat Agency may adjust the performance of the services entirely as it sees fit. The Client must be informed of such an adjustment in writing.
2. In the event that any changes to or departures from any work schedule or time schedule that has been drawn up are desirable or necessary, the associated additional costs will at all times be payable by the Client.
3. In the event of any contract variations, additions and omissions, the work concerned must be invoiced or setoff separately or in an itemized manner.
4. Unless agreed otherwise, the services will only be performed on normal working or office days as is customary in the countries in which the services are performed, therefore not on public and commemoration days in the countries in which the services are performed. In special circumstances – necessary for the effective and/or efficient performance of the services – this may be departed from after consultation between the parties and on application of the applicable rates.

Article 10: performance of obligation(s) and/or agreement(s)

1. The Client will bear the risk with regard to any inadequacies or misunderstandings concerning the performance of the obligation(s) and/or agreement(s); in any case if these are caused by incorrect, incomplete or late specifications, requirements or other relevant communications provided or made directly or indirectly to Your Expat Agency.

Article 11: prices and rates

1. For the services to be performed by Your Expat Agency, the Client will be obliged to pay a fee as described in the agreement(s) between the Client and Your Expat Agency.
2. Unless explicitly agreed otherwise in writing with the Client or stated otherwise, all the prices and rates applied by Your Expat Agency are in legal Dutch currency, excluding turnover tax/VAT.
3. Your Expat Agency explicitly reserves the right to change any prices and rates previously communicated to the Client, in so far as they have not yet explicitly been accepted by the Client.

General Terms and Conditions (of sale) of Your Expat Agency

Article 12: invoicing and payment

1. Payment must be made into a bank account to be specified by Your Expat Agency.
2. Payment must be made in legal Dutch currency.
3. Payment must be made within thirty (30) days of the invoice date, unless explicitly agreed otherwise by the parties, in writing.
4. Payment of the relevant turnover tax/VAT due must be made together with each payment or partial payment.
5. If payment has not been made within the payment term explicitly agreed on in writing or within thirty (30) days of the invoice date, the Client will be in default – without notice of default or judicial intervention being required.
6. If payment is not made in time, the Client will therefore be in default without any notice of default being required and Your Expat Agency will have the right to charge the statutory interest and extrajudicial collection costs from the due date of the invoice.

Article 13: default

1. Irrespective of what has been included in these General Terms and Conditions, the Client will be in default without any notice of default being required as soon as the Client fails to comply, or fails to comply within the specified time, with any other performance due, ensuing from any obligation(s) and/or agreement(s), including any terms and conditions, in respect of Your Expat Agency.
2. As soon as the Client is in default, all claims of Your Expat Agency will be due and payable immediately and without reservation.
3. Your Expat Agency has the right to terminate the obligation(s) and/or agreement(s) between the Client and Your Expat Agency without giving notice, if the following occurs:
 - there is reasonable cause to assume that the Client will fail to comply with the Client's obligations;
 - the Client goes bankrupt or into liquidation;
 - suspension of payments is applied for by or on behalf of the Client;
 - the Client proceeds to wind up the Client's business or a substantial part of the property and/or assets of the Client is seized.

Article 14: company-sensitive information

1. Each party guarantees that all company or product-sensitive information and particulars received on entering into the obligation(s) and/or agreement(s) will remain strictly between the parties and will not in any way whatsoever be revealed to third parties, both during and after expiry of the contract period.

Article 15: force majeure

1. All circumstances (including but not limited to war, mobilization, riots, disturbances, flooding, blocked shipping and other blocking of transport, stagnation in or restriction or termination of supplies by public utility companies, fire and other accidents, government measures, non-delivery of necessary documents/visas to Your Expat Agency by third parties and other unforeseen circumstances) which disturb normal business operations and delay or in all reasonableness render impossible the performance of an obligation or obligations and/or an agreement or agreements occurring beyond the control of Your Expat Agency (irrespective of whether they were foreseeable or not when the obligation(s) and/or agreement(s) were effected) and which are of such a nature that compliance with the obligation(s) and/or agreement(s) cannot in all reasonableness be required of Your Expat Agency, constitute force majeure and cannot result in any imputable failure on the part of Your Expat Agency.

General Terms and Conditions (of sale) of Your Expat Agency

Article 16: liability

1. With regard to all the work performed by Your Expat Agency, Your Expat Agency will only be liable for any damage or loss caused by a serious failure or major error attributable to Your Expat Agency.
2. Any liability of Your Expat Agency for consequential damage or loss, including any lost profit, is excluded.
3. Any defence which the third parties engaged by Your Expat Agency may legally rely on in respect of Your Expat Agency can also be relied on by Your Expat Agency in respect of the Client.
4. The liability of Your Expat Agency is limited to the total amount of the fee; in the event of assignments with a longer duration, this liability will be limited to the fee due for six months. Your Expat Agency will never be liable for any damage caused to third parties, persons and/or goods and/or monies while providing services.

Article 17: partial invalidity/conversion

1. In the event that all or part of any provision of these General Terms and Conditions is invalid or null and void - for whatever reason - the remaining provisions of these General Terms and Conditions and the obligation(s) and/or agreement(s) between the parties will in all other respects remain in full force, whereas the parties will, in respect of the invalid provision, be deemed to have agreed that which is legally as close as possible to the purport of the invalid provision.

Article 18: goodwill/no legal effect

1. In the event that, as a gesture of goodwill or for another reason of, for example, a commercial nature, Your Expat Agency does not at an earlier stage rely on any applicable provision of these General Terms and Conditions in respect of the Client, Your Expat Agency will in doing so never forfeit the right to rely on the relevant provision and any other provisions applicable to these General Terms and Conditions at a later stage.

Article 19: joint and several liability

1. In the event that an agreement is or agreements are effected between Your Expat Agency and two or more other contracting parties (Clients), these Clients will each be jointly and severally liable for the full performance of the financial and other obligations arising from the agreement or agreements.

Article 20: applicable law and competent court

1. Any disputes arising from the obligation(s) and/or agreement(s), to which these General Terms and Conditions apply, can only be submitted to the competent court in Amsterdam.
2. Dutch law applies to all the obligation(s) and/or agreement(s) governed by these General Terms and Conditions.

Article 21: handing over and location of these General Terms and Conditions

1. These General Terms and Conditions were handed over by Your Expat Agency to the Client when the obligation(s) and/or agreement(s) were entered into between the parties.
2. The General Terms and Conditions can also be read and downloaded via the website of Your Expat Agency.
3. The most recent version of the General Terms and Conditions will always apply.